Building A, or the Medtronics building, was completed in February 2012, and work on buildings B and C, the BT Communications buildings began in April. This second phase of the construction is valued at R70m and is set to be completed in about seven months – an extremely tight deadline.

STRINGENT DEADLINES

Ricky Chetty, Group Five Building Division Contracts Manager, says that they manage such stringent deadlines by developing an accelerated base programme. This includes involving all subcontractors in the planning process.
