01 & 02 DECEMBER | DCCI CONFERENCE CENTRE

Improve your organisation's performance, regardless of your industry or omission. Project management is the value driver that helps your organisation get the most out of its performance.

This workshop will help you to have unique decision making, selection, team effectiveness, risk and opportunity analysis tools that will ensure 100% success.

You will not find these tools in any other workshop about project management.

What is it all about?

The project manager is responsible for developing a plan through which the project can be tracked and controlled to ensure the project meets present objectives.

To do this effectively the project manager requires accurate and timely information.

Lack of information, poor planning and control could be very expensive if it leads to poor management decisions, mistakes rework and overrun.

Who should attend?

- Everyone managing or involved with projects
- Projects Managers
- Training/Human Resource Practitioners
- Maintenance and Production Engineers
- Production or Operations Managers
- Engineering or Maintenance Planners
- People who want to improve the performance of their assets to optimise the return on their capital investments
